2002 Phoenix Dedication
Mr. Edward A. Labry III

Mr. Labry is a graduate of the Cumberland University Class of 1985. He is currently President of Concord EFS Inc. and its subsidiary EFS National Bank in Memphis, Tennessee. Concord is one of the leading online debit companies and has relationships with seventy percent of the supermarkets and fifty per cent of the top petroleum companies in the United States.

The old Cumberland Univeristy Gymnasium, or "The Dawghouse," has been undergoing extensive renovations by means of a monetary contribution made by Mr. Labry. Built in 1936 by the Works Progress Administration, the old gym served as the site for Cumberland's intercollegiate basketball games until 1982 and then as a practice and intramural sports facility until the building of the Dallas Floyd Recreation Center.

The classrooms in Labry Hall are scheduled to be ready for classes in the Fall 2002 term, with the completion of the offices to follow.

Cumberland University wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Labry for his continued support of the university, it students, and education.

Labry Hall Groundbreaking

On March 7, 2002, the groundbreaking ceremony for Labry Hall was held. Many faculty, staff, students, as well as Lebanon citizens were in attendance. Dr. Kozy welcomed everyone, and the Band of the Phoenix played the National Anthem. Mr. John Pope, President of the Alumni Association, gave the Invocation, and Jeanette Rudy spoke on behalf of the Board of Trust. The Band of the Phoenix played the Cumberland University Alma Mater at the closing of the ceremony.

Mr. Edward Labry at the groundbreaking with his wife, Elizabeth, and daughters, Allison and Holly.

Dr. Kozy, Mayor Don Fox, Mr. Labry, Allison, Holly, and Elizabeth Labry, County Executive Robert Dedman, and Jeanette Rudy break the ground on the construction site during the ceremony.

Labry Hall will combine elements of the old gymnasium with new structural designs as well.

This painting appears on the back wall of the old gymnasium. Former Cumberland Coach Van Washer painted this bulldog in the 1960s.

The Cumberland University Band of the Phoenix look on at the ceremony as they wait to begin playing.

Cumberland University President Dr. Charlene Kozy

Dr. Charlene McCoin-Johnson Kozy is the twenty-fourth President of Cumberland University. Along with performing her duties as President of the University, Dr. Kozy instructs a class as well. She shows a genuine care and concern for all of the students here and greets each one with a smile and a kind word. She can be seen attending many of the sporting events, choral performances, band performances, and drama productions. Dr. Kozy shows great pride and confidence in the ability and talent of Cumberland University students. In the Fall 2001 issue of "The Cumberland Connection," Dr. Kozy says, "I am extremely proud of our student body. I have a new message to tell the world and that is...not to worry, we're in good hands." Dr. Kozy has definitely made an impact on Cumberland University. Thank you, Dr. Charlene Kozy, for all of your hard work and dedication.

Presidential Cabinet

The members of the Presidential Cabinet and supporting staff also devote a great deal of time and energy to Cumberland University. They make sure that everything runs as smoothly as possible in order for students to achieve the best education possible.

Dr. Charlene Kozy was inaugurated as the twenty-fourth President of Cumberland University on Thursday, October 18, 2001.

Presidential Inauguration

The inauguration was held on the univeristy's campus in the beautiful Baird Chapel. The inaugural cermemony included words from Mayor Don Fox, County Executive Robert Dedman, SunTrust Bank President Bob McDonald, Alumni Association President John Pope, SGA Representative Chad Lamb, and former First Lady of the University Mrs. Mary Clement. Many students as well as people of the community attended the inauguration.

(Above) At the Inaugural Dinner held in the Phillips Dining Hall later in the evening, Mr. Monty Pope served as the Master of Ceremonies. He is the Assistant Professor of Geography and History at Cumberland University.

At right, Dr. Kozy talks with a young man and young lady. Although Dr. Kozy may not know all the names of the many students on campus, she still manages to convey care and concern to each and every one of them with a smile and friendly hello.

The entire inaugural event was a very memorable one indeed. Along with students and citizens of the city of Lebanon, the inauguration and the festivities that followed were attended by colleagues from fellow universities, faculty and staff, and friends and family of Dr. Kozy.

Many students as well as faculty members were able to take a special part in the inaugural events. Cumberland University Vocal Instructors Laura Diddle and Philip Tatum performed during the ceremony. Sophomore Philip Dickman provided the music for the Inaugural Dinner as guests celebrated with Dr. Kozy. Following the dinner, guests went to the Heydel Fine Arts Center where Cumberland University students presented a Fine Arts Gala honoring Dr. Kozy.

During the inauguration ceremony, Dr. Charlene McCoin-Johnson Kozy was invested by Dr. Jeanette Cantrell Rudy, Chairman of the Cumberland University Board of Trust.

The Cumberland University Chorale, under the direction of Laura Diddle, also performed during the inauguration ceremony. It was a very special honor for all of the students who had the opportunity to perform on this very important day. The chance to perform at this event was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

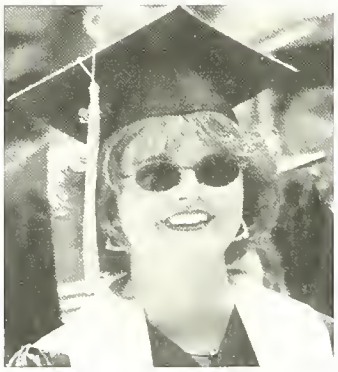
160th Commencement Exercises

The 160th Commencement Exercises of Cumberland University represented a milestone in the lives of over 400 graduates. All of the long hours and hard work finally paid off as each gradute walked across the stage and reached for a diploma. One side of the stage marked the completion of a journey; the other marked the beginning of a whole new world, as a graduate of Cumberland University.

Rachel Encke, 2002 MSO Graduate

Matthew and Michael Dixon, 2002 MSP Graduates



Julie Craig, 2002 Graduate

May 11, 2002

The Commencement Address was delivered by The Honorable Roy Brasfield Herron, Senator of the 24th District of the State of Tennessee General Assembly. Mr. Herron told the graduates about his father graduating from Cumberland many years before. Mr. Brasfield then proceeded to explain the nine most important words to live by: Pray Hard, Play Hard, Work Hard, and Love Your Family. The entire day was filled with many congratulations, laughter, and tears. The feelings of pride and joy could be seen not only on the graduates' faces, but also on the faces of loved ones and friends. We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Cumberland University Class of 2002 on a job well done and wish them luck for a bright future.

Below right: Dr. Alice Nunnery is presented with The President's Award for Teaching Excellence voted on by the graduates. The graduates felt that Dr. Nunnery was one of the professors who did the most to prepare them for the future.

Cumberland University Board of Trust

Cumberland University is operated by a self-perpetuating Board of Trust. Trustees represent many broad and varied interests, abilities, and experiences. The Board of Trust is charged with fulfilling the duties of making policy decisions and ensuring the future advancement of Cumberland University. Pictured above is the current Chairperson of the Board of Trust, Jeanette C. Rudy. The Executive Committee of the Board of Trust includes Joe F. Bryant, Vice Chairperson; Edward L. Thackston, Secretary-Treasurer; Martha M. Bradshaw, Kenneth J. Hawkins, Fran Moscardeli, Harry Vise, and Sandra G. Welborn.

First Annual Distinguished Alumni Awards

Award of the Phoenix

This award honors those who have contributed in some way to the ideals and traditions of Cumberland University. These people have gained distinction in serving others.
(Right) Sam Stratton Bone, Jr., was a member of the Class of 1958. Mr. Bone represents House District 46 in the State of Tennessee's General Assembly and was named Legislator of the year by the Tennessee Development District Association in 2001.

Award of the Phoenix

(Left) Mr. Sid Durham also received the Award of the Phoenix. He has been involved in many fundraising events across Middle Tennessee and is a long time friend of Cumberland University. He has been the coordinator of the Phoenix Ball for the last ten years and has been successful in adding elegance and style to many university events.

Award of the Phoenix

(Left) Mr. Edward A. Labry, III, was the final receipient of the Award of the Phoenix. He graduated from Cumberland University in the Class of 1985 and is now the President of one of the leading online debit companies in the United States.

Distinguished Alumnus

This award recognizes outstanding professional accomplishments and devoted service to a chosen career.
(Right) Mrs. Jacqueline West Cowden graduated from Cumberlnad College in 1975 and received a Master of Science degree in Human Relations Management from Cumberland University in 1995. She is now the Vice-President of Custom Packaging, Inc. in Lebanon.

Young Alumnus Award

This award is given to an alumnus who has gained establishment in his or her field of study, takes an active role in the community, and has a strong commitment to Cumberland University.
(Right) This year's winner was Ms. Cristin Melese Murray, a 1997 graduate of Cumberland. She received a Juris Doctorate from The Cumberland School of Law at Samford University and is currently a partner with the law firm Wilson, Henegar & Murray in Shelbyville, Tennessee.

Cane Award

This award is presented to an alumnus having the most life experience that attends Homecoming.
(Left) This year's award was presented to Ms. Blanche Catron. She is a 1936 graduate of Cumberland University with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Keynote Speaker

"One cannot do everything, but everyone can do something."

9/11/01

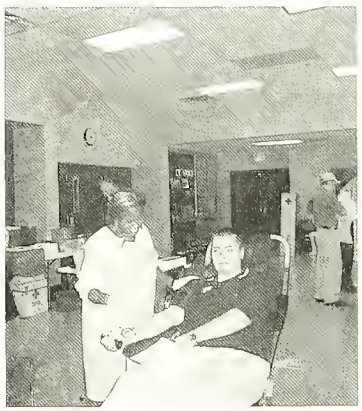
Cumberland University did its best to offer support and encouragement in a time of great distress and uncertainty. On our campus:

The flag was lowered to half mast even before the strikes had actually ended, and a voluntary prayer service was held at the flagpole with students and faculty gathering in large number. Major Carl Wallace also spoke to students concerning US military involvement and terrorism.

A blood drive was held in the gymnasium. The goal of 35 pints was exceeded when 39 pints were donated by the end of the day. All sporting events were cancelled out of respect for the victims and their families. Students put flags on their vehicles and patriotic posters in their dorm room windows.
A security task force meeting was held on October 5, 2001. A Safety Committee made up of faculty, staff, students, and administration was formed to put together a disaster preparation plan for Cumberland University.

The Process
Possible donors had to go through a short screening process to ensure that guidelines were met. Below, Rachel Jones answers a few questions before donating.

Giving Life
Many students chose to give support to victims and workers by donating blood. Below, Jonathon Winnett does his part to help fellow Americans.



Prayer
Many students and faculty offered support through thoughts and prayers. Everyone seemed to be in a state of shock and unbelief.

Left: Many people that chose to give blood during the blood drive faced quite a long wait after signing in. However, the opportunity to help out fellow Americans in a time of crisis was well worth the wait.

Below: The voluntary prayer service was held in memory of those that lost their lives, in honor of their families, and in thanks to workers who were searching for survivors. Some people offered prayers, while others simply took a moment to reflect on the situation and somehow come to an understanding.

Disbelief

Many people were completely shocked at the occurances on September 11. Students and faculty seemed to wear expressions of disbelief for days.

Power in Great Numbers

Above: There were a great number of people attending the prayer service. They were scattered about the front of Memorial Hall surrounding the flagpole.

Results

Although donating blood may be somewhat uncomfortable, everyone who donated seemed to be happy to do whatever they could to help those in need.

The Phoenix Ball

The annual Phoenix Ball was held on June 2, 2001. The theme was "By the Light of the Silvery Moon." Many faculty and staff members, honored guests, and students attended the event. Special guests included representatives of the Nashville Zoo who collected donations for the Nursing and Science Building that is to be built. All proceeds from The Phoenix Ball sponsored the roof repairs to Memorial Hall.

The Chairpersons for the event were Representative Sam Stratton Bone, Jr. and his wife Marty.

The Honorees for the night were the Faculty of Cumberland University. Dr. Fred Heifner, Jr., along with Monty and Pace Pope enjoyed the evening.

Dr. Joe Bryant and wife Pat also attended the ball.

Many students attend the Phoenix Ball. Above is Bob Connors and his guest for the evening. Other students volunteer as servers, parking valets, and hostesses.

2002 Graduates

The Mace of Cumberland University is a symbol of the power of knowledge and the significance of a liberal arts education. At the top is a globe, which represents the world of lifelong learning. As the symbol of Cumberland University, the Phoenix rises from the fire of ideas atop the globe.

Intramural Sports

Intramural sports were a huge success this year. The number of student participants exceeded all previous years. The fall semester included a flag football league that was very competitive. The two time reigning champs got the title taken away from them this year by some older veteran students. An intramural pool league followed during the fall semester. Other intramural activities that took place during the fall 2001 semester included a 3 on 3 basketball tournament, several ping pong tournaments, and a couple of pool tournaments. Prize money was given to the top three winners from each of these tournaments. Bowling Competitions took place a couple of times in the fall for all types of prizes including a new bowling ball and bag donated by Lebanon Lanes. Students also had the opportunity to play golf at the local golf range on designated days for a discounted price.

The intramural sports for spring semester were men's and women's basketball, co-ed volleyball, and co-ed softball. All three sports had a record number of students to sign-up and participate. In January, several practice nights were given to the students to get ready for the intramural basketball season. These open gym nights were a hit and showed student excitement for the intramural league to come. Co-ed volleyball is always a fun sport for the intramural teams because it is not as intense as basketball and softball. Once the weather got warmer, the intramural softball league began with much anticipation. We played all of our games at Cedars of Lebanon State Park during the month of April. The intramural softball nights drew large crowds of students that came to watch and cheer on their teams. Out of eight league teams, the winning team ended with an undefeated record and received small iron paperweight trophies with a softball on top.

All of the intramural participants for the whole year received a complimentary T-shirt for being a part of each league. Each sport used its own type of style and design for the T-shirts. The referees that were used for the spring semester came from the Officiating Sports class at CU. These students were given college credit for fulfilling the hands on training through officiating basketball, volleyball, and softball. Each intramural league ended with a single or double elimination tournament that decided the champion team. The regular season record determined where each team was seeded in the tournament. The Greek Experience

Above: The Kappa Sigma Fraternity helped to build Bulldog Spirit with their Homecoming "Car Bash." Faculty and students had the opportunity to beat the car with hammers and sledge hammers. By the end of the day, the car looked pretty rough, but Bulldog Pride was shining.

What exactly is it like to be Greek? Many Greeks will tell you that it requires a lot of hard work and dedication, but all will say that it means being a part of a unique group of people. Everyone can see that being Greek involves going to meetings, participating in Greek Week, and performing community service. However, most people do not understand that the most important part of being a Greek is the brotherhood or sisterhood among the individual organizations. Only members can understand the neverending friendships and lifelong memories. Being a member of a fraternity or sorority is more than just belonging to another campus organization; it is being a member of a nationwide web of brothers or sisters that share a common bond.

So what is it to be Greek? It is a choice. It is a journey. It is an unforgettable exprience.
